

Amendments to the Abstract:

Replace the Abstract with the following:

An adhesive system including a structural component to be mounted to a base structure, the structural component having a first bonding location and a second bonding location. The adhesive system also includes a primary bonding applied to the first bonding location of the structural component to bond the structural component to the base structure, the primary bonding comprising an adhesive of a sufficient strength to securely bond the structural component to the base structure; and a secondary bonding applied to the second bonding location of the structural component to bond the structural component to the base structure, the secondary bonding comprising an elastically stretchable adhesive.
